WHAT IS HEALTHGUARD?

HealthGuard is a range of protective screens designed to shield employees and customers against the COVID-19 virus. The system consists of a clear plastic screen, with an opening for staff service, which sits tightly onto a white melamine timber base or is hung up over a counter. The product is designed to be flat packed for easy tool free assembly on site.

We offer two basic plastics for the screen, polycarbonate or petg, both 5mm thick, and a range of colour options for the base, from standard white to woodgrain, in both 18mm and 25mm thickness.

An innovative range of protective screens designed to protect employees and limit the spread of infectious disease.

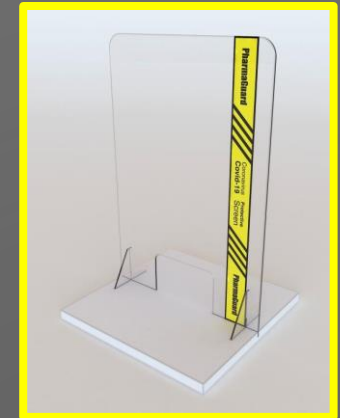

PRODUCT BENEFITS:

- Clear transparent barrier maintains visibility and communication between staff and customers
- No need for expensive site installation- all units are flat packed for easy tool free assembly on site. The designs are sturdy and free standing and simply sit on your existing countertop
- If required, units can easily be fixed to counter tops using double sided tape or wood screws
- High impact plastics used for the top screen – we offer polycarbonate as standard due to it's high impact resistance and rigidity and clarity, or alternatively PETG plastic, again which is highly impact resistant 5mm material as standard
- Vinyl graphic included with each unit – this can be customised with branding if required
- Variety of options included on the timber base, from white to colours or woodgrain finishes
- HealthGuard is a broad product range not limited to one application. We offer a range of sizes and units
